CLASS DESCRIPTION

Chess Level 1

Class Goal: Teach kids the basic principles, techniques, and openings of the game of chess.

Class Introduction: We will teach kids that are new to chess. They will learn how to play and learn the basic concepts and openings. Later on, they will also be able to recognize patterns and solve many types of tactics. When getting used to basics and openings, the students will learn middle-game plans and important endgame positions.

Chess Level 2

All non-beginner chess players are welcome to the Chess 2 class, no matter your age and skill level. This more advanced class will start with tactics and progress up through opening and endgame theory.

Teaching methods:

- Tailored to the individual student. One student liked to design new types of pieces (i.e. "chess variants"). Some students prefer to just play chess against each other. Some students want to play against the teacher. Some students like to play on the computer.
- Self-guided (by the student) wherever possible
- Using computers for checking on positions and moves.
- Handling differing skill levels. Example: More advanced students teaching other students
